Welcome to Tattu Canary Wharf

Dragon Kings of the Four Seas

Marking the latest chapter in Tattu's carefully curated story, Tattu Canary Wharf brings together Global Executive Chef Eugene Papadimitriou and Chef de Cuisine David Pang, combining a masterclass in Japanese and Chinese fusion.

Together, they present an exceptional new dining destination. Designed by Studio WYZE, the restaurant draws inspiration from the historic floating restaurants of China, where glowing lanterns, vibrant neon and waterside architecture create an unforgettable setting.

Welcome to Tattu Canary Wharf

A New Waterside Destination

Inspired by the Dragon Kings of the Four Seas, the interiors unfold across four distinct realms, each drawing on ancient maritime mythology and brought to life through Studio WYZE's striking design.

At the heart of the restaurant, the White Dragon Grand Hall features soaring double-height ceilings, light timber finishes and a glowing onyx sushi counter.

Beyond, the Red Dragon Cocktail Bar is characterised by dragon-scale arches and rich crimson detailing, while the Black Dragon Mezzanine offers a more intimate setting of ebony and gold.

Hidden above the water, the Azure Dragon Private Dining Room provides an exclusive space where sculptural forms evoke flowing water and dragon scales, creating an unforgettable setting for private celebrations.
